Reports on Road Condition In Lac La Biche Area

By HENRY THOMPSON

LAC LA BICHE. — The time has come when the taxpayer must face up to a larger share, in the responsibilities for more and better roads.

Remarkable development that mechanized farming has brought about has doubled production in the last ten years, with less manpower. The advent of the Deisel crawler tractor for clearing has opened the bush lands of the Lac la Biche area to cultivate at a rate not equalled in the previous twenty years by the horse and grub hoe method.

The result has been a spread of settlement to bush lands not previously considered profitable because of heavy costs of clearing, thus adding to the already overstrained road finance problem. Increased production has hit a bottle neck in bad roads and high cost of transportation. Only the extremely dry years in the past three years have kept road improvement costs to a level that partially satisfied the tax payer. One wet year would completely wipe out this narrow margin. All side roads are badly in need of improvement, and some require complete rebuilding as very little repair has been made since 1941.

1942-43 convention of the Beaver River Constituency Association requested a system of main road construction, in preference to spreading small repair allotments all over the constituency. The allotments were then no more than twenty thousand dollars for ID's 101 and 102. The Hon. Lucien Maynard agreed to this policy which was continued up to 1948.

In 1949 some attention was given to district market roads. Eight miles was built on the Colony-Craigend road, two miles at Frains, four or five on a district road at Wandering River, two and a half at Plamondon. Some work was done east from the highway that branches to Rich Lake from Briereville and also other work at Fork Lake and Rich Lake. This is a step in the right direction but falls far short of the actual needs for even these districts.

A compiled list of 28 districts in the Lac la Biche area leaves a total of 608 miles remaining in the older settled districts that have been demanding attention by residents for a number of years. Some of these roads have been built but have been set aside because greater demands from other districts and by the policy of Main Roads First. The side roads are now in no condition to bear the traffic. These figures include no roads built in three previous years to 1950.

Our average rate of construction, excluding 49, has been less than 20 miles per year of high grade. 1949 was a bumper year. Forty miles were built although not completed. At an accelerated rate of construction. Say sixty miles per year, it will take ten years to rebuild those roads already started, in the mileage mentioned above. Divided among twenty-eight districts in the improvement area, this means two and one-seventh miles per district

Northland Fire Finally Checked

Northern bush fire which has burned unchecked for more than a week has been brought under control by forestry crews.

More than 40 men have been fighting the blaze since it was first reported burning into stands of marketable timber about 160 miles north of Lac la Biche. Bulldozers and other heavy equipment were sent into the area soon after the first report was received.

Three Others

Meanwhile, crews comprising more than 60 men are still attempting to check three fires burning in the unsettled area between Edson and Sturgeon Lake. Recent rains through the area have aided the men in their fight but some marketable timber is still being threatened by the flames.

No new outbreaks of fire were reported, officials of the provincial forestry department said.

PLAMONDON BRIEFS

The girls' softball defeated Wandering River by a score of 9 to 5.

Another game took place on Sunday—Plamondon vs. Charron, score being 18-5 in favor of Plamondon.

But the most interesting and hard to defeat game was that of the girls vs. the married women. The girls won the hard-to-get victory 2-0, but believe me they worked for it. We hope to see the ladies back in the field before long. How about it?

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gauthier, Mr. and Mrs. St. Claire Gauthier and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Plamondon are visiting their brother in Mercoal.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Piquette and family spent the week-end here in Plamondon.

Mr. Krull of the John Deere company spent a day in Wandering River and Plamondon.

Mr. Ross of Edmonton made a visit to Plamondon.

The picnic which was held here satisfactory success, and we wish to thank all those who attended.

Down to the sports line-up. On Sunday in Plamondon, Wandering River defeated Plamondon by a score of 6-7.

In Edmonton during the week were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gagnon, Mrs. Edgar Plamondon, Mrs. Philip Johnson and George Duperon, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gauthier.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Beland and son Bernard of Coal Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Ray St. Pierre and daughter of Edson spent the week-end in Plamondon at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Bob and Roland Piquette.

Roni Peacock has left Plamondon and has taken work in Wetaskiwin.

Mr. A. Peacock left Friday for Hoadley. He will move his family to Plamondon.

Hotels and Liquor

At the Alberta Hotel Association's recent convention in Edmonton, delegates from all over the province wrote into their convention reports a decision to enforce the Alberta Liquor Act to its fullest.

The big majority of hotel men have always done their utmost to operate clean establishments that are run in full accordance with the law. However, there was one clause that for a long time was overlooked.

It has now been decided that the law limiting the sale of beer to two glasses at a time per customer shall be stringently enforced.

This is a wise step that will do much to counter the bad publicity which has prevailed recently in connection with Alberta's liquor situation. It should also make it easier for the hotel proprietor to handle the inevitable cases of drunkenness that arise in beer parlors.

It is a regrettable fact that there are always some who abuse a privilege. The right to consume beer and liquor is definitely a privilege, one which we would not like to see denied to the people in this province.

Hotel men are often placed in difficult positions by the actions of a minority which attracts wide attention. We feel that such actions do deserve wide attention, because drunkenness has done much damage to the welfare of so many individuals.

But it should be made clear that it is only a minority that acts in this manner, and others should not be penalized because of this.

Insurance for Farmers

This business of farming is one of the most important industries in the country, but also one which entails perhaps the biggest gamble. At the start of every season, no farmer knows the outcome of his crop, whether he will suffer from drought or be hailed out, or how the markets will be.

And so it is that we recommend to all farmers the Alberta Hail Insurance Board, a co-operative organization with headquarters in Calgary.

The Hail Insurance Board stands ready to give every farmer in the province the minimum protection that he requires for his well-being and security. With the government taking a strong hand in the direction of its policy, it is an outstanding example of co-operative effort for the good of all.

From its formation in 1938 until today, the board has paid out varying amounts to farmers, ranging from the $200,000 paid in 1942, to $1,767,000 paid last year.

July and August are the hail-menacing months, and this year the board will receive about 6,000 applications for insurance from farmers.

The organization writes about 75 per cent of the hail coverage in the province, and while hail insurance is never a complete protection, it is a valuable safeguard that every grain grower should take.

The Alberta Hail Insurance Board is one of the most important features of the agricultural industry of this province.

Problem of Youth

Hard work, a reasonable application of good common sense, and the ability to "settle down" in a chosen career early in life, are the requisites for success. Many young men in the 16 to 22 age bracket prefer $50.00 per week at common labor NOW to the choice of learning a trade, starting in at $25.00 per week and working steadily for six years until he has a training for life.

Some men settle down at 16 in their chosen work. Many bank managers and directors today are men who, when they were boys, had enough good sense to get down to business early in life. Some men dissipate their youth until they are thirty. Some are forty, some fifty before they settle down to make a straight line of their career.

There are some, of course, who wait until they are too old to work or too infirm, get drunk every Saturday night and don't settle down at all, and end up penniless and useless to themselves, their family and society.

What Does Life Hold For a Man?

By T. W. PUE

Every now and then I run across information that I think might be interesting and pass it on to our readers. Here's an item that should be of particular interest to our male readers.

Fifty is the dangerous age for men, says an eminent British psychologist, who points out that some time between 45 and 50, a man realizes that what he is, he is, and there is no turning back.

All of his life, says the doctor, the man may have been dissatisfied with his job and his status in the world, looking upon both as temporary conditions to be altered when his "dreams" come true. Around fifty, however, the hoped-for "lucky break" becomes an uncertainty and the individual must give up the relief that he has found in his "dreams."

T. W. Pue There are only two ways out of the difficulty for men at this age, according to the doctor. One is the way of regression, to close one's eyes to the facts of life and go back to an earlier and probably lower level. Changing occupations and swapping wives, in the belief that success in a big way is just ahead, is one expression of this way. Another is to live through one's children, identifying the youngsters with himself and attempting to direct their lives along the line that the father would have liked to have led himself.

The only sensible way out, says the doctor, however, is to frankly recognize one's age and recognize that, so far the man himself is concerned, much personal advancement is through. Then, forgetting himself, to live for his children, or others, as they are, rather than as he would like them to be, and thus take up some worthy cause in the world.

There is sense in the observations of the British doctor but, just the same, there is a chance that he has not stated the entire possibilities that exist for a man at this dangerous age. Admitting that a man may labor willingly, for years, under the impression that his work and his status are temporary and that between 45 and 50, he comes to the conclusion that his "dream" is fading, there is yet a chance for a man to pull himself together and go ahead.

The temperament that allows a man to drift with events and affairs so long as he expects a "break," will often change with the realization that harder work and more intensive application can alone produce results. Consequently, when a man comes to this understanding of himself, he is apt to re-check his course, halt his drifting and steer more directly for the goal he has had in mind.

Anyway, whether 45 or 50, or 60, life holds much for every man. No one can calculate what can be accomplished in a few years and the records of the past contain many examples of men and women who have made "much personal advancement" after passing the age limit set by the eminent psychologist.

Scriptural Meditations

By AINSLEY BLAIR

Never should the Bible be studied without prayer. Before opening its pages we should ask for the enlightenment of the Holy Spirit, and it will be given. When Nathanael came to Jesus, the Saviour exclaimed, "Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile" Nathanael said, "Whence knowest thou me?" Jesus answered, "Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee." (John 1: 47, 48). And Jesus will see us also in the secret places of prayer, if we will seek Him for light that we may know what is truth. Angels from the world of light will be with those who in humility of heart seek for divine guidance.

A TALE OF THE NORTHWEST

By EUSTACE REDDISH

The previous instalment told of Bob Campbell and two companions arriving in Entwistle in November 1909 on a construction train of the GTP. They forded the freezing Pembina on foot and with only one packet of crackers and three tins of sardines they headed north on the way to their homesteads.

But once across the Pembina they took the wrong trail and had to stay out in the bush all night with two good fires to keep them warm. Three days later they got to Hart's at Roydale where they spent the night and had their first real meal since leaving Entwistle.

The next morning Bob and his companions separated, they going west and he north.

The next people he saw were at Jim Maloney's where they showed him the trail to Peavine and his homestead which was about seven miles due north. However there were so many cattle trails that he lost the trail he was following and at dusk he found himself at a shack five miles west of his destination.

The people there gave him supper and put him on a good trail which led direct to Henderson's who at that time had a store and the Peavine post office and which place he had no difficulty in finding.

That winter of 1909 he lived with Dunc Tolmie. Dunc was the brother of his Edmonton friend who had persuaded him to come to Peavine, and his homestead was right next to Bob's.

Next spring Bob and Dunc put up a shack, but he headed back to Edmonton for another summer's work, returning to winter in his own shack.

Bob continued to work in Edmonton throughout each building season and then to pass the winter on his homestead until after the outbreak of World War I which caused a collapse of the building boom. He then decided to turn farmer and came out to live permanently on his homestead.

Most of the men of military age in this district enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force and Bob was no exception enlisting in the 194th Battalion in Edmonton in the spring of 1916.

Overseas Bob, with other local members of the 194th, was transferred to the 6th Bn. Canadian Railway Troops with whom he saw considerable service in France.

After the war Bob returned to the farm in 1919, was married that fall, and also took a soldier grant a quarter section which had lots of good timber on it. He purchased a sawmill and cut lumber every winter for a number of years.

This timbered soldier grant adjoined the North West Lumber Co.'s timber berth and when they cut their logs in that area about 1929 or 1930 they cut and hauled almost all of Bob's timber that was still standing.

Then it was discovered that due to some mistake in the land office both Bob and the NW Lbr. Co. were the legal owners of the timber but as the North West had cut and hauled it Bob was out of luck.

All he got was the land the timber had grown on and the stumps, though the government did graciously consent to refund the taxes he had paid on this land prior to the removal of the timber.

Mrs. Campbell died in 1938 and Bob continued to farm his old homestead. He has now retired but continues to reside on the farm that has been home to him for over four decades.

LIKES PAPER

Dear Sir—We have lived in South Edmonton for some time, and enjoy reading your South Edmonton Sun. We are now moving over to the north side of the city, but would like to keep on getting the paper, so will you please arrange a mail subscription for us.

We have always found the paper very interesting, particularly the story about Fort Saskatchewan jail.

Incidentally, there is a neighbor of ours whose name I am enclosing, who would like to get the paper every week.

Welfare Crisis Looming Over Indian Status In New Act

A far-reaching crisis in the welfare of Alberta's 7,000 native Indians is looming in the foothills province, as proposed legislation to enact Bill 267—a new Indian Act—is arousing widespread opposition.

The rewriting of the act has been brought about by attempts to modernize the national status of the Indians, yet it may have far-reaching effect, with alarm among the Indians reportedly reaching proportions of panic.

Major points of controversy in the question are proposed government authority over Band funds, allowance of Indians to consume liquor off reservations, and the possibility of the vote being extended to the natives.

Unique feature of the matter is that the natives themselves, for the first time in Canada's history, are taking an active part in discussion of the laws which govern their place in Canada's society.

A curious part of the debate is that although the vote has been extended to Canada's Eskimos, the government recently defeated a measure to allow Indians the franchise. This may be in part due to the fact that Indian groups have denied any interest in the vote, stating that to acquire the franchise would mean losing other, and more valuable, rights.

Indians Vote in B.C.

In B.C., however, the Indians are allowed to vote in provincial elections. They have elected one member of their own race to sit in the legislature at Victoria. He is a member of the CCF party.

Under the new bill, Minister of Indian Affairs Hon. Walter Harris would have practically absolute authority over Band funds, to add or delete members of the Band, and to ask for the appointment of a committee of two whites and one Indian with power to terminate the existence of a Band without consulting members of the tribe.

In fact, throughout the wording of the act appear such phrases as 'the decision of the minister is final and conclusive.'

Another serious objection is the arbitrary casting out of the bands of descendants of mixed marriage between whites and Indians. The point is raised that what would happen to an Indian woman who married a white man, only to have the man later desert her and her children.

Indians are also rebellious over Section 100 of Bill 267 which would prohibit any Indian from engaging legal defense to protect himself, his band or his reserve, or to make any complaint to the government itself, without the written consent of the Minister.

Too Much Power

Indians further contend that the Minister is given power to break every treaty and every agreement ever made between Indians and the Crown.

Question of the right to vote apparently does not worry Indian leaders much, as it has been suggested that should they be given the franchise, it would be the termination of payment of treaty money.

Indians are free from taxation in Canada. Not because they haven't the right to vote, but because they gave up their claims to rich and valuable lands in treaties with the government.

Treaty money of $5 per head, with more for chiefs, is paid once a year. It is distributed through either Indian Affairs Superintendents or RCMP officers.

Meanwhile, however, the federal government has launched a widespread health program among Indians, particularly in the North West Territories.

A full-time dentist has been appointed to care for the Indians of the north as the first plank in a full health program.

Appointment was announced last week through the Department of National Health and Welfare.

Social Security

Payment for social security measures such as baby bonuses, unemployment insurance, etc., are expected to cost Canadian taxpayers about half a billion dollars in the present fiscal year. This sum will exceed by $22,000,000 the total of all Dominion government expenditures for the fiscal year ended in March, 1935.

New Strike Extends Oil Fields

Discovery of a new oil and gas field in the Peace River district has raised hopes for an entirely new producing area. The strike, made by wild-cattling British-American and Shell Oil men, is 350 miles from Edmonton. The map shows the principal strikes of the last few years in Alberta and how they have spread from Pincher Creek and Turner Valley to Stettler, Redwater, and near South Edmonton.

Don't Forget You Can Do Better With GOETT

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON:

Story of Israelites Is Retold Once Again

In the third month after leaving Egypt, the Israelites reached Mount Sinai, a part of the mountains known as Jebel Musa, "the Mount of Moses," a peak about 7,500 feet high.

Here the people were charged to keep a reverent distance while Moses and Aaron went up on the Mount to talk with Jehovah.

The language of Jehovah in his conversation with Moses on the mount, is highly significant. God declares that he has chosen the Israelites to be a holy nation, and a kingdom of priests. These people are to minister to the world in holy things. As priests, they have direct access to God; as a holy nation they are separated and distinct from other nations, called to do a special service for God. However, there is an "if" connected with God's promise, as stated in our memory verse, Exodus 19:5: "If ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant—then ye shall be mine own possession from among all people." Many of us forget the "ifs" of life, in claiming the promises of God.

Moses holds much the same position among the Jews that George Washington holds among Americans. He is their fearless leader. As one writer points out, the amazing thing about him is that he never deliberately tried to establish himself as a leader, but that he let God drive him into leadership.

The easy thing for Moses to have done was to stay in Egypt, as a prince in the court of Pharaoh. But instead, he followed the command of God to go and suffer for his people, and lead them out of their bondage. After being convinced that God would be with him, he had the will to serve, which is the first great characteristic of a great man. His leadership ability was consecrated to the will of God.

It was while Moses was on the Mount of Sinai that God delivered to him what has come to be known as the Decalogue, or Ten Commandments. These commandments are commonly regarded as the gift of God to the people of Israel through Moses, one of the most important gifts they received. Many scholars agree that the first four commandments deal with man's relation to God, the last six with his relation to his fellow man. Peake's Commentary on the Bible says: "It must always be remembered that negatives imply a positive, and that those of the decalogue rest upon a principle, the foundation of both religion and mortality, that man's true life involves fellowship: 'Thou shalt live in fellowship with thy God and with thy family, tribe, nation, and (eventually) fellow men.'"

Realizing the importance of having a place of worship at the very heart of the state, Moses initiated the building of a "tent of meeting," or sanctuary. The enthusiasm of the Israelites in following the suggestion of God and of Moses is inspiring. They not only offered liberally of their goods, but of their time and labor. In fact, they were so liberal, they had to be restrained and, as a result, they gave an incredible fortune to the Tabernacle.

As a token of divine approval, the cloud, which the Lord had provided to lead them through the wilderness, took up a new position over the Tent of Meeting. All through the rest of the wilderness wanderings, it remained there, with fire shining in it at night. When the fire and cloud were lifted from the Tent, it was a signal to break camp, and march on. God in the cloud and fire, was thus with his people both day and night.

Perhaps the greatest contribution that Moses made to his people was that he brought a whole nation into an awareness of God—he put the Tabernacle at the very heart of their life as a nation. Wherever they went, they carried their Ark; it was a holy sacred thing, the symbol, the abiding-place of the spirit of their God. The time came in Israel when the people were scattered; their precious Ark was lost and they went into captivity. But, even here, they were conscious of the presence of the Tabernacle and the Ark; they carried them in their hearts.

SOCIAL CREDIT DECIDES POLICIES ON OWNERSHIP

A public utility should be established only when individual enterprise has failed to provide satisfactory service. This is now a plank of the Social Credit party's national platform.

The policy concerning public and private ownership of utilities was formulated recently, it was learned last week.

The statement will be part of a new manifesto.

A government should enter the utilities field only when private companies have failed to provide service at reasonable cost, the Social Credit officials believe.

When a real monopoly exists or is threatened in a field other than public utilities, the government should then enter the field on a competitive basis rather than as a state monopoly, it is also contended.

'Loan Closet' Aids Cancer Victims

One of the life-saving services of the Canadian Cancer Society has the intriguing name of "the loan closet." From this store room sick-room supplies are sent out to cancer patients being treated at home. This is in addition to the dressings service, and it can provide a complete hospital room for cancer sufferers. Hospital beds, mattresses, overhead tables, sheets and pillow cases, hospital gowns, pneumonia jackets and wheelchairs are available.

While research goes on seeking the cure for cancer—much of it on grants from the Cancer Society—the society does not forget the incurable. In the past year, an Edmonton woman was found dying of cancer in almost destitute condition. Her last weeks were made more comfortable in a temporary hospital room set up in her home by the cancer society. This and other services are financed by an annual campaign for funds.

After nine weeks of the campaign, nearly $53,000 has been collected. Donations, and applications for cancer services can be sent to the Cancer Society at 10029 Jasper avenue, in Edmonton.

ANNUAL JAMBOREE PRESENTED BY UKRAINIAN GROUPS AT THORHILD

THORHILD. — Thorhild was the scene of the Annual Jamboree of the Canadian Ukrainian Youth Association, branch of the Ukrainian Self-Reliance League of Canada, for the territory north of the North Saskatchewan river, on Sunday, June 11th, 1950.

Locals taking part were Thorhild, Radway, Waskatenau, Smoky Lake and Spedden. Approximately 400 persons attended.

Rev. M. Fyk of Radway, and Rev. W. Senechen, principal of St. John's Ukrainian Institute in Edmonton, officiated the service, conducted in the Thorhild Ukrainian Orthodox Church.

The Ladies Aid of the Ukrainian Orthodox Church prepared the lovely dinner, and accommodated everyone attending.

The main event of the afternoon was a sports program, in which Locals from Thorhild, Waskatenau, Radway and Spedden took part. In the men's event, Thorhild defeated Waskatenau 11-6; Spedden defeated Radway 10-9 in a brilliant last-inning homer, and the top honors went to Thorhild in the final, with Thorhild out-scoring Spedden 11-4.

In the girls' event, Spedden defeated Waskatenau with a whooping score of 27-14.

The evening was filled with a concert, prepared by Mr. S. Boyko, Mr. N. Bodnar and Rev. M. Fyk, taking most of the burden on their back to prepare it. Many fine recitations, solos, dances and choruses under the direction of Rev. Fyk, were heard by a capacity audience in the town hall. Each CUYA Local was represented and contributed to the concert.

The highlight of the day was the Coronation of Elsie Swetz of Waskatenau, as Queen of the Jamboree, and Nadia Wozemirsky, of Radway, Olga Chomiak of Spedden, Alice Klymchuk of Thorhild, and Olga Tkatch of Smoky Lake, her ladies-in-waiting, as Queen's runners-up.

Contestants will compete in the Dominion Popularity Contest, at Winnipeg, Oct. 1.

Gardiner To Speak At Edmonton Meet

Rt. Hon. James Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, will arrive July 6 to address a public meeting sponsored by the Alberta Livestock Co-operative.

Mr. Gardiner's appearance is in connection with the tenth annual meeting of the Alberta Livestock Co-operative. Sessions will be held July 6 and 7 in the IOOF hall. About 300 delegates are expected to attend.

Mr. Gardiner will be presented in the Sales Pavilion, July 6, at 8:00 p.m. Accompanying him here will be Peter S. Young, United Kingdom Trade Commissioner for Canada. Chairman will be Alberta Livestock Co-operative President Hugh Allen.

U.S. Oil Men Tour Alta. Fields

Large group of leading Canadian and American oil men, headed by President Eric L. Harvie of Western Leaseholds, Ltd. of Calgary, made an aerial and ground tour of Edmonton oil fields last week.

The group arrived at Edmonton airport Wednesday in a specially chartered TCA aircraft at 3 p.m.

Party of about 30 left in chartered Greyhound bus for a ground tour of Leduc and Redwater, where Western Leasehold has many properties.

New Book Sketches Day In Life of Pope Pius

A new book by an Alberta author is reaching wide popularity on the counters of Alberta book stores.

It is 'A Day with the Pope,' a 64-page book by Rev. Chas. Hugo Doyle, formerly of Edmonton. It sketches an actual day in the life of His Holiness.

The book is copiously illustrated with pictures of His Holiness. He is shown at his office desk, conducting private audiences, greeting distinguished visitors or members of the church hierarchy, and in other phases of his daily routine.

The author stresses the exacting nature of the Pope's daily routine. Many of the Pontiff's official papal writings are done at night in his private suite, after his day's official business is completed.

"The awful toil that such a full schedule exacts of any vicar of Christ is brought out by the fact that the average reign of the last 24 popes has been only 12 years," says the Tarrytown priest.

Pope Pius, the former Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, became Pontiff in 1939. He now is 74 years old.

The author was born in Kingston, Ont., and now is assistant pastor of St. Teresa's parish, North Tarrytown, N.Y.

He was educated for the priesthood at St. Joseph's seminary in Edmonton and St. Augustine's seminary in Toronto, was stricken with heart disease 10 years ago while a pastor in Alberta. At that time he was given only a year to live. He was transferred to North Tarrytown to be near specialists.

Since then he has written four other books about the Pope and one giving advice to those contemplating marriage or newly married.

Morinville Man Treated By New Miracle Drug

Norman Weiss of Morinville, third case to be treated in the Kinsmen research bed in the University hospital, has greatly recovered through the use of the cortisone treatment from a rare disease causing inflammation of the blood vessels.

At the time of his admission to the University hospital, Mr. Weiss was suffering severe abdominal pains from a disease which is usually fatal. During his treatment, he was under the care of a group of University hospital physicians and received daily injections of cortisone for 25 days. Within a few days, Mr. Weiss was able to be up and about and within six weeks was well enough to go home, subject to periodic medical checks.

The research bed in which Mr. Weiss was treated, was financed by a grant from the Kinsmen Club of Edmonton to further medical research in the hospital.

Cortisone, a hormone of the adrenal gland, first developed about two years ago, was supplied through the National Research Council.

Letter to Louisa

Mother Won't Allow Young Daughter to Wed

Dear Louisa: I am seventeen years old and stay with mother. I want to get married to a young man of 21 who loves me and has asked me to settle down with him.

We have been going out steady for about two years and we know each other well and are sure of our happiness.

My mother will not hear of it. She likes the young man but she says I am too young to get married. I have a sister who is unhappily married and she keeps reminding me of her.

I sometimes feel like calling the whole thing off. But, I love him and do want to be his wife. What do you advise?

Answer:

Seventeen is rather young to get married and take on the responsibilities of a home and family. However, you do have two things in your favor. To begin with, he is old enough to support you and I presume that he has a good job. Next, you have known him and gone with him long enough to know something about him.

You did not say whether you had finished school or not. If you haven't I think it would be wise to put off marriage until you have completed your education.

The trouble with getting married so young is that your tastes in many ways are not definitely formed. The man we think a perfect hero at that age, may leave you cold when you reach your twenties. Also, the girl who hasn't had fun at parties, etc., when she is young, tends to look back with regret and bemoan her fate when she is tied down to the home with babies when she would really like to be dancing or seeing movies.

I think what you do and your happiness will depend to a great extent on what kind of temperaments you and your fiancé have. If you are the quiet types, who are willing to settle down and take on all the responsibilities that marriage demands, then everything may work out all right. But if he is undependable and craves a good time and excitement, you will be taking a risk.

As to your sister's unhappy marriage — there are many happy ones and many unhappy ones. Each one depends on the dispositions and characters of the two people who make it or break it.

LOUISA.

20th Century FARM NEWS

One of Alberta's Major Retailers

One of the major retail store organizations in Alberta is the Marshall-Wellis paint and hardware store chain. A typical modernistic store is seen here. The firm maintains outlets in such thriving country points as Redwater and Innisfree. Store in Redwater is owned by Lloyd Lesnik, and in Innisfree by the Pshyk brothers.

Self Feeding Hogs Not Always Best

Self-feeding hogs has become so general now-a-days that feeding in this way has become the accepted method in many districts.

But self-feeding should not lead to carelessness and to neglect of the pigs. It is important to watch the development of the pigs, possibly more so than with hand feeding, and prepare a feed mixture suitable to their growth and condition. To do this, the feed mixture will need to be varied from time to time.

In developing feed mixtures for self-feeding, possibly the simplest was is to consider first the feed mixtures used for hand feeding. There are commercial pig starters, pig growers, and pig finishers available, or the operator can mix his own mixtures from home-grown grains along with protein and mineral supplements. When self-feeding such mixtures it is advisable to include more of the bulky feeds such as oats, alfalfa meal or bran. With increased bulk in the ration the pig will still satisfy his appetite, but will consume less of the fattening feeds included in the mixture.

Complete information on the self-feeding of swine, suitable feed mixtures and a plan with construction details of a self-feeder are contained in Circular No. 129 "The Self-Feeder for Hogs" which can be obtained free upon request from Information Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

New Company Enters Alberta Oil Scene

Outstanding new entry into the expanding Alberta oil scene is Barons Oil of Calgary, an independent concern holding title to some of the most promising oil lands on the prairies.

Possessing a 40,000 acre tract near the town of Barons, south of Calgary, the firm has launched a widespread stock sales campaign aimed at over-financing their project four or five times in excess of required capital, in what president R. Allen Brown describes as "an additional protection to investor's money."

Surrounding the promising Barons land are vast tracts held by such big oil companies as Standard and Continental. Just outside the Barons limit are two successful wells, one oil and one natural gas.

Natural gas and traces of oil have been sighted on the Barons land.

President Brown told this newspaper last week that his company was over-financing the project so that the security of the investor's money would not be dependent on the success of the first well. Company's first well is due to spudd in about August 20.

"Greatest industrial development in Canada's history," is the way Brown, an oil man from way back, describes the recent Alberta discoveries.

"Canadians should take an active part in the development of their greatest national asset," the firm's president added.

Mr. Brown has been a successful operator in the California oil industry for a number of years, and is now in partnership with a group of well established Alberta businessmen.

His associates include L. H. Schoof, Claresholm rancher; C. V. Bennett, Claresholm lawyer; I. G. Navarre, Calgary contractor; and John A. Gow, Calgary businessman.

During the last three years a number of new Alberta oil companies have scored outstanding success. These include such firms as Leduc Consolidated, whose stocks have risen from nine cents to $1.75; Roxana, with stock increases from three cents to $1.03; and Federated Petroleum, with stock increases from 23 cents to $2.55.

The SWATHER you asked for!

(Another Nance Company Quality Line)

The HITTERDAL
 Self-propelled Swather

MADE FOR OUR CONDITIONS

Successfully Proven by three years actual field operation.

And through these exhaustive tests the Hitterdal Swather has been closely screened for hidden weaknesses. There just aren't any. Take note, too, of these many desirable features:

- Cuts operating costs; you can swath 10 hours on 5 gallons of gas.
- Eliminates need for extra tractor. Variable speeds from 2 to 7 miles per hour.
- Opens field without loss of grain. No waste.
- Turns square corners and leaves corners open; no trampled swaths.
- Light weight; cuts on wet ground or in boggy condition where tractor cannot go.
- Uniform swath; no bunching or heavy slugs on corners.
- Powered by Wisconsin 13 H.P. air-cooled engine.
- Canadian made. Spare parts carried by 120 Nance Company Dealers in Alberta.

When you compare these and other features with those of any other swather on the market today, you'll choose a Hitterdal! Ask your local dealer for further information.

BARONS OIL LIMITED

Capital Stock 25c Per Share

No Par Value—Non Assessable

BARONS OIL LIMITED is inviting public participation in the drilling and testing of a large block of acreage surrounding the Town of Barons, Alberta.

The Management of Barons Oil Limited consists of experienced and successful oil operators, and business men. The new Company is headed by R. Allen Brown, President, who has experienced many years of successful oil operations in California. He has been actively engaged in the rapidly expanding Canadian Oil Industry for the last two years.

The Company's program calls for the drilling of its first test well on a 39,360 acre Reservation in the Barons area. Its holdings are about 25 miles Northwest of Lethbridge, in Townships 11, 12 and 13, and Ranges 22, 23 and 24, all West of the 4th Meridian.

While this must be considered a speculation, and it is a speculation, the large block of acreage held by Barons Oil, plus the finding of both oil and gas some two miles from the South end of Barons holdings, makes this a highly preferred test.

A geographical survey of Gravity Meter, plus slim hole core testing has been completed.

You are invited to join the development program of this new Company.

per year. This estimate allows nothing to growth in new areas.

It is clearly evident that we can no longer depend entirely on more money in grants from the government. We are already receiving all that can be given under existing rules and regulations of legislature controlling matters of this kind. Therefore we must assume a larger share of this large demand for roads. Political expediency must not be the controlling factor in placement of appropriations. This can never be altered under the present system of long distance control from St. Paul. The people have no voice in actual expenditure of their grants or placement and no accounting need be made as to the separate or district costs. The total amounts received from the government are all that is required by your member of parliament.

Every municipality is compelled to account to the people for disbursement of money, detailed and accurate to a cent. Nothing like this is required of the engineer. It is presumed that his judgment is beyond question and the people have no knowledge of road finances or administration.

An interesting comparison in total figures offers itself in the following: According to the statement of Mr. Lobay in the convention last fall, the sum of fifty-six thousand dollars was appropriated in 1949. A total of approximately 40 miles of dirt road was completed for that sum in the improvement district. There was no graveling except maintenance. There was a total allotment of thirty-six thousand dollars in divisions 1 and 2. Pelek and Ropchan in the Smoky Lake Municipal District report that sixty-nine and one-half miles was built in 1949 and in addition gravelled thirty-four miles. The municipality has this advantage that the gravel highway, St. Paul to Edmonton, cuts across their divisions and is in no way a responsibility of the municipality. In our case these main roads take the lions' share of our appropriations. The municipality own all construction and maintenance machinery but we own no machinery whatever in our own right but buy new outfits each year through the hire of suitable road equipment from others.

'Life's Like That'

The usual hilarity of a children's birthday party was over and mothers and small guests were saying their good-byes. The hostess stood at the doorway, and as each mother left she handed her a small package, most attractively gift-wrapped. "That is for you," she said. "Open it when you get home."

Imagine the surprise each mother received! Inside the gaily wrapped package lay—two aspirin tablets.—"Life's Like That" in The Reader's Digest.

The Allis-Chalmers Model "WD" tractor is typically Allis-Chalmers in appearance and streamlining. It retains all of the features and qualities that made its predecessor, the Model "WC" a top favorite with farmers and ranchers in all parts of the world. But it goes beyond all previous conceptions of what a farm tractor should be, and introduces a new standard by which tractors of this type will henceforth be measured. There are three popular styles from which you can choose. Dual front wheel, tricycle style . . . single front wheel style . . . and adjustable front axle style.

You only have to drive this new Allis-Chalmers tractor once to know that tractor farming is going to be different from now on!

Time Out FOR LAUGHS

During the Klondike gold-rush days a bartender in a Nome saloon handed a glass of crystal clear water to an old sourdough and asked for an opinion on it.

With a wry face, the sourdough forced half of the "aqua pura" down his gullet and then with a shake of his grizzled head, said: "Can't spot it at all, but don't put in a big stock. It'll never be a real popular drink."

A mother had been telling her small son some of the "facts of life." Finally she said, "Now, my boy, are there any questions you would like to ask? Anything at all, don't be afraid."

After a little heavy thinking, the boy replied: "Well, yes, there's something I've been wanting to know for a long time. Just how do they make bricks?"

ville last term was 463, composed of 12 different classes.The school board announces that an inventory of reference school books for all grades has been taken and that $4,500.00 is the total value on hand at present.
It has been decided that a central library will be formed for school use and work will begin on the classification of the books very shortly. It has also been decided that there will be 13 classrooms in operation next September.Sunday School Picnic Set For July 2GIBBONS. — Gibbons will hold a Sunday school picnic, Sunday, July 2, at the R. S. D. Gibbons picnic grounds. (This is next Sunday). All parents and smaller children of the Sunday school are invited to come. Lunch has already been provided for, so you need not bring anything. But the Sunday school teachers would like the co-operation of all parents with smaller children to come and participate in the afternoon activities.A Slogan That Means Something"Beatty Human Hand Washing Action" is a slogan that means something. The gyrator of the Beatty Washer reaches into the clothes and moves them back and forth through the water, just as if human hands took hold of them to do it.Obviously this is what it really does, and obviously it is effective.
Obviously it gets the clothes cleaner and washes faster than other washers.It has proved itself in the homes of hundreds of thousands of customers during the past 25 years.

"Beatty Human Hand Washing Action" means something. You can see it, feel it, understand it and explain
it. And it gets results as no other action can.

NO MARKET for milk due to a strike of milk truckers forces farmers in eastern States to feed it to the pigs rather than let it go to waste. Here one farmer is seen giving his hogs some. As he explains, "The cows don't know about the strike, they still produce."

Mariette Amiot Returns From Quebec

EGG LAKE. — On Friday, June 23, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Amiot had the pleasure of welcoming home their daughter Mariette, who has been working as operator at the Bell Telephone in Valleyfield, Quebec for the past two years. She came by airplane to Edmonton and by train to Lac la Biche. She will spend a few weeks at home before returning to her work.

On Wednesday, June 28 the girls' softball team from Plamondon came to play with our girls, who are only beginners. Of course Plamondon won the game.

The temperature is always warm and dry. Our farmers are very discouraged. A good rain now would at least give us some crop, but many fields are beyond help. Our gardens have come up poorly and now cutworms are doing great damage. We still pray for rain; maybe our turn will come. Good rain has fallen a few miles from us but here we had only very light showers.

On Thursday, June 29, about 40 persons gathered at M. Adrien Amiot's for a surprise shower party for Miss Bertha Dakin, of Gourin, whose wedding to Alain Amiot will be at Plamondon on July 10. She received several presents and everybody had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Vincent left on July 1st with Marcel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Vincent of Normandeau for a motor trip to Falher, Jean Cote and other places where they have friends. We wish them a good trip.

Miss Louise L'Heureux is well again after her operation and has gone to work at Brite Spot in Lac la Biche. Mrs. A. L. L'Heureux is home again after having spent a few days in hospital.

Mrs. Alexandre Lemay is also back home after spending a few days in hospital. We wish them both good health.

Miss Jeanne Cloutier of Lac la Biche Mission is now working for Mrs. Marcel Vincent.

In Canada last year 351,135 babies were born.

GRASSLAND TOPICS

June 26th saw a moderately successful picnic at Grassland. Financial results are not immediately available, although receipts apparently fell short of last year. However, a good time was enjoyed by all who attended.

Miss Doris Hlushak is in Edmonton and may stay through the summer.

Mr. Leonard Chameczuk, of Savrent is staying with his aunt and uncle at Grassland. Mrs. Hurtubise is in hospital in Edmonton receiving treatment.

Massey Harris weed sprayers have earned a splendid reputation since their introduction only two years ago, and it is further enhanced with the development of the new, improved models now available.

Retaining all the convenient features and low gallonage advantages of former models, these new machines offer you still greater value than ever in the many new improvements that have been added—greater strength and more rigid frame design especially in the trailer model—arch bracing and spring cushioned rod control on the wide 30-ft. booms (eliminates flexing and whipping and ensures uniform application across the full length of the boom), cable support and pulleys for convenient hand lifting of the 20-ft. booms—longer service—filtering system—and improved pump design.

You can get a weed sprayer to fit your tractor

STOP AND THINK!

Repair bills are cheaper than hospital bills! With the cost of brake relining, steering adjustment and repair so very low, there's no reason to go on driving in a faulty car. We suggest that you drive up today for a check-up.
